Eisenhower Backs Sale Of Planes

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said Tuesday that he believed the sale of 135 Sabre jet planes to Yugoslavia "is in the best interest of the United States."

Eisenhower referred to the transaction at a news conference here and in a supplementary statement afterward.

The sale was disclosed by the State Department last Friday and drew sharp criticism. The deal includes training eight Yugoslav air force pilots at Perrin Air Force Base, Tex.

Eisenhower said that on Dec. 14, 1950, the Defense Department told the State Department that it had no objection to the sale of the fighter planes, because they were obsolete and headed for a scrap heap.

Lone Bandit Gets $2000 From Bank

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A lone bandit waving a black gun held up a woman teller at the North Side office of the Mellon National Bank Tuesday and fled with $2,000 in $10 bills.

The teller, Janet Stauffer, 21, of suburban Glenshaw, told police a man approached her teller's cage shortly after noon, shoved a paper bag at her and said "put some money in it."

Miss Stauffer said she hesitated and the man said angrily "speed it up." She said she grabbed the nearest packet of money and put it in the bag.

Missile Launch Is Postponed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The first launch of the Saturn super booster has been postponed, perhaps for a month, so refinements can be made in sensing devices in the flight control system.

The maiden flight of the heavy-weight rocket, which one day may boost a three-man spaceship around the moon, was scheduled late this week. But the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced Tuesday that the test has been delayed indefinitely.

Officials reported the decision was based on data obtained from tiedown firing tests of another Saturn at the Marshall Space Flight Center, Huntsville, Ala.

Asks Dismissal Of Radar Citation

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Atty. A. A. Bluestone said Tuesday he will ask Allegheny County Court on Wednesday to dismiss a truck driver's speeding citation because it was based on a speed check by radar.

Bluestone said he believes this will be the first appeal to reach the courts since the radar speed law went into effect Sept. 1. Bluestone indicated he will attack the legality of the radar law but he declined to say on what grounds.

Apalachin House For Sale Again

APALACHIN, N. Y. (AP) — A for-sale sign once again is on the 11-room fieldstone mansion where 60-odd underworld characters and friends gathered four years ago for the Apalachin gangland convention.

The mansion and elaborate estate of the late Joseph Barbara Sr., host at the meeting of Nov. 14, 1957, was purchased in 1959 by Mr. and Mrs. Larue Quick of nearby Endwell for $120,000. They had intended to open the mansion as a tourist attraction but were blocked by zoning laws.

Asks Retraction Of Endorsement

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A past president of the American Dental Association Tuesday demanded immediate removal of the group's "recognition, endorsement, acceptance, whatever you call it" of Crest toothpaste as effective against decay.

Dr. William R. Alstadt of Little Rock, Ark., supporting a resolution that would wipe out recognition, asserted the issue has caused great disunity among America's dentists and tarnished the organization's reputation for product impartiality.

Education Dept. Scored By GOP

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Department of Public Instruction's republication of editorials criticizing Republicans on the education front drew criticism Tuesday from GOP State Chairman George L. Bloom.

State Sen. Clarence Bell, R-Delaware, began the GOP attack Monday, accusing the DPI of using tax dollars for political purposes. Bell demanded that the department permit the GOP to rebut the charges.

Eight Children Unhurt As Coal Truck Hits School Bus

EIGHT elementary school children escaped injury yesterday afternoon when their school bus was sideswiped by a tractor-trailer on Route 611 in Bartonsville.

The children, all from the Stroud Union School District, were en route home when the accident happened at 4 p.m.

about 150 yards north of Hay's Market. All the pupils live in the Snyder'sville - Bartonsville area.

Operating the bus was Douglas Greene of 1827 W. Main St., Stroudsburg. The vehicle is contracted to the Stroud Union School District by Orin Reish of Dreher Ave., Stroudsburg.

Peace Corps Member Flies Home As Nigeria Cools Off

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Margery Michelmore, the central figure in the Peace Corps postcard incident, telephoned her parents Tuesday she was flying home.

The 23-year-old volunteer from Foxboro, Mass., whose criticism of Nigerian living conditions brought student demands for expulsion of all 37 members of the corps in this Negro nation, said she planned to arrive in New York Thursday. The criticism was in a postcard she intended to mail to an American friend.

A forgive-and-forget attitude was suggested by Lagos newspapers in comment on the case. There was even a defense of Margery.

The independent Daily Express referred to a saying that an ambassador is one sent abroad to lie for the good of his country. "But if he chooses to tell the host to his face a few homely truths," it added, "need that up."

Miss Michelmore stayed temporarily with the wife of an American diplomat in Lagos. She has offered to resign from the Peace Corps.

Her postcard was dropped near the campus. A Nigerian student who found it, instead of returning it to her, gave it to student leaders for publication.

Paris Police Fire On Rebels

PARIS (AP) — Police fired Tuesday on crowds of Algerians demonstrating against a new curfew, killing two, wounding at least four, and then arrested 4,000. One policeman was reported shot and wounded.

The demonstrations and clashes resulted from a call by the National Liberation Front to protest the curfew imposed on Algerians in the wake of increasing incidents of violence between Algerians and Europeans.

Greene, who was heading north on Route 611, stopped on the highway to release one pupil. Several cars reportedly passed the stationary bus and Greene then put his arm out the window to give additional signals.

A car stopped for the signals, but the tractor-trailer, carrying a cargo of coal, drove between the bus and auto.

The tractor-trailer was driven by Steve Korba of Bayonne, N.J., and operates for Korba Trucking Inc.

It was believed that Korba took the middle lane of the three-lane highway to avoid crashing into the stopped automobile.

The rig smashed several windows on the bus and cut deep into the metal along the bus' side. In the process, the chutes on the rig opened and spilled a large quantity of coal along the road.

Damage to the tractor trailer was minor.

Trooper Robert Latzo of the Stroudsburg State Police station investigated. He is continuing his investigation into the crash.

Two children, a boy and a girl, were seated behind the bus driver and near the point of impact. The crash caused several panes of glass to crack but they did not fly free.

Possible U. S.-Soviet Compromise

West Europe Balks At U.N. Secretary 'Deal'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Angry West European reaction threatened Tuesday to torpedo a possible U.S.-Soviet compromise that could remove a major obstacle in naming a temporary secretary-general.

The reaction came after the Western Europeans read reports saying the United States might accept a Soviet proposal that the temporary U.N. chief have four chief aides.

Under this arrangement the four would come from the United States, the Soviet Union, Africa and Latin America. Asia would be represented by Ambassador U. Thant of Burma, who has been accepted by both the United States and the Soviet Union as a candidate for acting secretary-general.

This would mean that for the first time Western Europe would not be represented in the U.N. top executive machinery.

Reaction from the Western Europeans could be summed up in these words: Why are we negotiable?

Delegates from Western Europe met in private session to consider the most forceful way of presenting their views to the U.S. delegation headed by Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson.

Afterward a spokesman for the group declared it would not accept any arrangement that failed to give Western Europe its rightful place in the Secretariat in accordance with the U.N. charter.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin was reported eager for another meeting with Stevenson on the issue, but U.S. sources said none had been arranged.

Diplomats expressed concern that the prolonged U.S.-Soviet negotiations on a stop-gap secretary-general might now end up in a hopeless deadlock.

In that event the United States is expected to go directly to the U.N. General Assembly and propose that it take action to fill temporarily the vacancy left by the death of Dag Hammarskjöld in a plane crash in Africa last month.

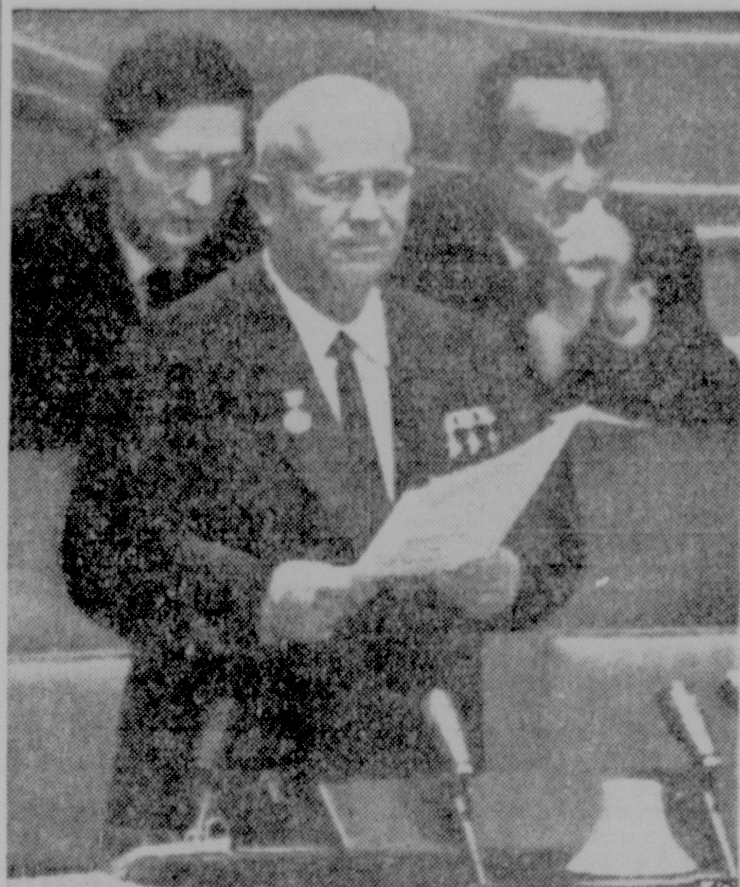

But even U.S. sources conceded that it would be extremely difficult to find a candidate who would take the job without agreement between the United States and the Soviet Union.

The United States had previously argued for five undersecretaries, including a West European. The Soviet Union said if a West European were named one should be selected also from East Europe. This was not acceptable to the United States.

K Offers Olive Sprig; Threatens 50-M Blast

MOSCOW (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev held out just the tip of an olive branch to the West on Berlin Tuesday.

He declared the Soviet Union would no longer insist that a German peace treaty be signed by the end of this year—but said this was on condition the Western powers "display readiness to settle the German problem." He did not relent in the least in his terms as to how that problem should be solved.

In a speech of 6 hours, 20 minutes to the 22nd Soviet Communist party Congress, Khrushchev also announced that Soviet scientists would touch off a 50-megaton nuclear bomb, equivalent to 50-million tons of TNT, at the end of October.

He also said the Soviet Union has a bomb twice that size, but would not explode it because "we might break our own windows."

On Berlin and Germany, Khrushchev said, "If the Western powers display readiness to settle the German problem, the question of the time limit for the signing of a German peace treaty will not be so material; we shall not insist that the peace treaty be signed by all means before Dec. 31, 1961," the date he had previously set.

But he went on: "The German peace treaty must be and will be signed, with the Western powers or without them."

He said such a treaty would end Western occupation rights in West Berlin and convert West Berlin to a "free and demilitarized city." These terms are just what Britain, the United States and France have refused to consider.

Khrushchev gave the impression he expected the West to give in in the end.

In a mention of Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko's recent talks with President Kennedy, U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, Khrushchev said, "We had the impression that the Western powers display a certain understanding of the situation and are inclined to seek a solution for the German problem and the West Berlin issue on a mutually acceptable basis."

In his far-ranging report, Khrushchev told the 4,813 delegates and advisory delegates that "only a little more time" would be needed to outstrip the United States economically; that colonialism is dead; and that capitalism is unable to solve any of the urgent problems facing mankind.

He reviewed standing Soviet proposals for a three-headed secretariat in the United Nations, nonaggression pact between the Warsaw Pact Communist countries and the North Atlantic alliance, the plan of Poland's Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki for atom-free zones in central Europe and the Far East and a "disengagement zone" in central Europe.

He concluded with a violent attack on the Communist party leadership of Albania and Yugoslavia and an implied attack on the Red Chinese. He also announced what sounded like the threat of a party purge of inactive and sluggards.

He accused the Albanians of using "the same methods as were current in our country at the time of the personality (Stalinist) cult" and said they must "renounce their erroneous views" if they want friendship with the Soviet Communist party.

In the list of 80 nations represented in the hall, two Communist nations, Albania and Yugoslavia were conspicuously absent.

Yugoslavia has been at odds with the Kremlin since 1948, but Albania's defection has been apparent only in the last year. The little Adriatic country has been leaning toward Red China in its argument with Khrushchev over the theory of peaceful coexistence and the inevitability of war.

During the entire speech, the two Red Chinese delegates sitting behind Khrushchev stared in stony silence. Even when Khrushchev concluded, Premier Chou En-lai of Red China barely patted his hands in applause.

Khrushchev again ripped into the "factional anti-party group" including former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, former Premier Georgi Malenkov and Nikolai Bulganin and former Premier President Klementi V. Voroshilov, who were purged from their high posts long ago.

Khrushchev said they had fiercely resisted eliminating "errors and distortions and abuses of power" of the Stalin era.

The party is about to introduce its new program, the first since 1919, which is intended as a blueprint to outstrip capitalism by 1980, Khrushchev said.

Life in the Soviet Union must reflect the "period of the full-scale construction of communism," he said. "We cannot make a concession on this fundamental issue either to the Albanian leaders or to anyone else."

Except for his attacks on fellow Communists and his announcement of the coming test of a 50-megaton bomb, Khrushchev appeared to be in a relatively pleasant mood.

Force Of 50 Megatons Is Explained By Atom Expert

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 50-megaton nuclear bomb, bigger than any bomb ever exploded, would carry in one package more than twice of the wallop—and up to twice the fallout-producing capabilities—of the more than 20 devices so far tested in the Soviet Union's current series.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev said the Soviet Union intended to test such a bomb the end of this month.

Nuclear scientist Dr. Ralph Lapp told a reporter that a 50-megaton bomb dropped on the White House would: Dig a hole 400-feet deep and 1½ miles wide, and kill almost everyone within seven miles in all directions unless they were protected by well-constructed underground shelters.

Destroy all frame houses within 16 miles—embracing all of Washington. All brick structures within 10 miles would be leveled and even big, steel-reinforced buildings would be smashed for a distance of from five to six miles.

Cause second degree burns for a distance of 35 miles from the impact site, and injuries, such as from flying glass and other debris, would occur out to 30 miles.

Contaminate an area of from 10,000 to 20,000 square miles almost immediately—depending upon wind conditions. Other radioactive debris would shoot into the stratosphere, to fall a year or two later throughout the world.

Well-built civil defense underground shelters would provide protection if located 3½ miles from the blast, Lapp said.

Lapp worked on the original U.S. atomic bomb program but is not now connected with the government.

Other sources speculated that if such a bomb were detonated in the air—high enough so the fireball would not touch the ground—second degree burns could occur out to perhaps 49 miles from the blast, and "find kindling wood" would be ignited out to distances of 45 miles.

The range for burns and structural fires is farther for an air burst than for a surface burst.

Unofficial estimates are that the Soviet Union, in its current series of more than 20 blasts, has touched off devices having a total yield of more than 24 megatons.

White House Asks Reds To Reconsider Explosion Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House called upon the Soviet Union Tuesday night to reconsider its decision to explode a 50-megaton nuclear weapon.

The White House said in a statement: "We know about high-yield weapons. Since 1957, the United States has had the technical know-how and the materials to produce bombs in the 50-100 megaton range and higher."

"But we also know that such weapons are not essential to our military needs. Furthermore full-scale tests are not necessary to develop 50-megaton bombs. Such an explosion could only serve some unconfessed political purpose."

"We call upon the Soviet Union to reconsider this decision, if in fact it has been made."

Soviet Premier Khrushchev announced in a Moscow speech that the Soviets would end their series by exploding such a bomb at the end of this month. A 50-megaton bomb would have the yield of 50-million tons of TNT.

UAW Contract Talks Go To Chrysler For Negotiations

DETROIT (AP) — Walter P. Reuther brushed aside talk of a strike Tuesday as he showed up at Chrysler Corp. for intensified negotiations on a new labor contract.

Asked about setting a strike deadline, the United Auto Workers president said "We are not going to make this decision now." Reuther said the union would re-evaluate the situation at the end of the week.

Reuther indicated Chrysler, which has made no net profits so far this year, would be asked to accept the pattern established in contracts with General Motors Corp. and the Ford Motor Co.

"We don't intend to have Chrysler workers subsidize the corporation by accepting substandard conditions," Reuther said. "When Chrysler buys a ton of steel, it doesn't get a discount because the company has problems."

Reuther said he was trying for a quick settlement with Chrysler. His union struck GM for two weeks and Ford for 13 days before wrapping up new three-year contracts.

Reuther made his first appearance at Chrysler since the start of the auto industry's contract negotiations 3½ months ago. He said the session was to set up a schedule of procedure to expedite the negotiations.

"We want to move as quickly as we can," Reuther said. Chrysler's vice president for personnel, John D. Leary, declined to make any statement before joining Reuther at the bargaining table.

Norman Matthews, director of the UAW's Chrysler department, said some progress has been made since June 30 in negotiations with Chrysler on noneconomic matters—the term the company and union use in referring to rules in a national contract. Matthews added, "There are still some hard core issues." He said these include seniority, production standards and grievance procedure.

Ford and the UAW virtually have wrapped up all trouble spots left over from a strike. The company said all its assembly plants were in production with an estimated 90,000 hourly employees on the job.

The only holdout is Local 420 at the Walton Hills stamping plant near Cleveland, Ohio. An extended shutdown of the Ohio plant could cripple Ford production.

Lawrence Will Not Run For Senate

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Lawrence Tuesday ruled out the possibility of his accepting a draft to run against U.S. Sen. Joseph Clark in next year's primary.

Lawrence previously said he was not a candidate for Clark's senate seat. However, he had not ruled out a draft possibility.

Monday he issued a flat "no" when asked if he would accept a draft.

"I haven't the remotest idea just what I'll do," Lawrence told a special news conference for student reporters from 32 colleges. "I'll be active in something."

His term expires in January, 1963. The governor discounted the effect of the upcoming municipal and court elections as an augur of the trend in the 1962 congressional and gubernatorial elections.

Wheat Signup Will Run To Dec. 1

ACCORDING to information yesterday from the Monroe County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office, the tentative fall signup date for the wheat stabilization program for this county's wheat farmers is scheduled to run through Dec. 1.

The county committee, in making this announcement, also said that participation in the program is not automatic, but requires a farmer to file an intention-to-participate form with the County Office by the program deadline.

Donald Reish, Committee Chairman, said since there are numerous changes from the old law, it would be to a farmer's benefit to have all the information he can obtain.

If a farmer produces barley, wheat, grain sorghum, or corn, he can take part in the 1962 wheat program without taking part in the feed grain program. And, if he wishes to participate in the feed grain program, he may, without taking part in the wheat program.

Reish urged the county's wheat farmers to come into the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office for additional details.

Jackie Plans Week In D.C.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jacqueline Kennedy is expected to spend the week in Washington, her press secretary reported yesterday.

She returned from Cape Cod with the President by jet to greet President Urho Kekkonen of Finland and his wife and to officiate at a White House luncheon in their honor.

Mrs. Kennedy is expected to return to Hyannis Port, Mass. next weekend. The Kennedy's two children, Caroline and John Jr., remain at the Kennedy home at Cape Cod where they have been since early summer. Except for a few brief trips, and a vacation stay with the President at Newport, R.I., Mrs. Kennedy has been at Cape Cod since June 30.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

School Bus Safe,

The news columns of The Daily Record recently carried the story of a six-year-old girl being struck by a tractor-trailer as she was crossing Route 611 in the vicinity of Delaware Water Gap to board a school bus. As a result, the child is hospitalized with multiple injuries.

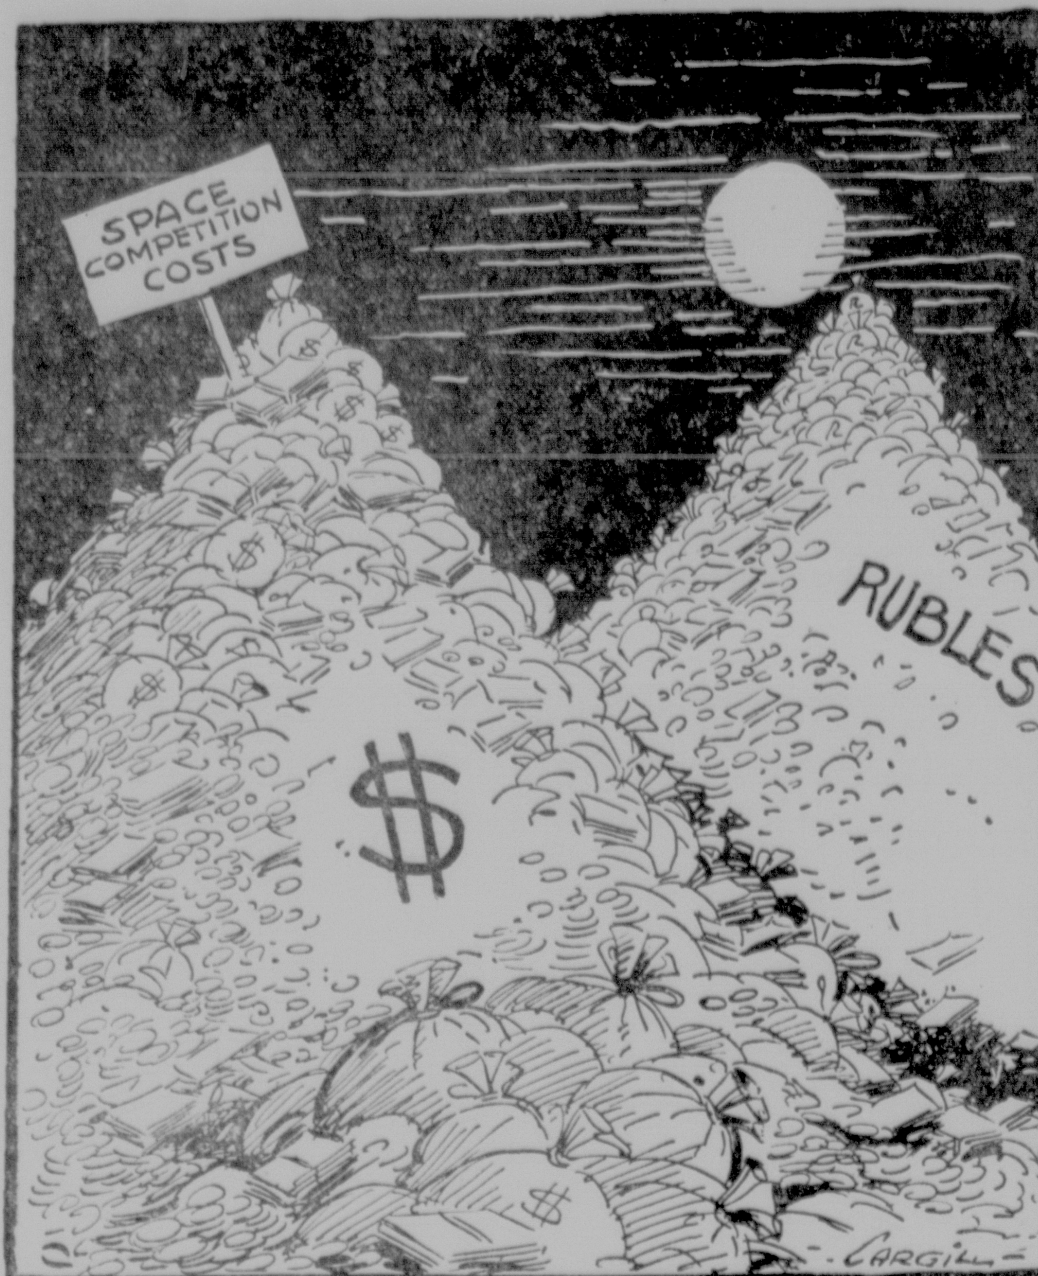

Yesterday afternoon, more youthful lives were endangered when a coal truck crashed into the side of a stopped school bus on the same Route 611 at Bartonville. The incident could have been a very serious one.

In the background of the accidents there are two serious factors. First, the driver of the trucks involved were evidently not conforming to the law which requires all vehicles, going in either direction, to stop when a school bus is stopped for picking up or discharging passengers, and to wait until the bus is on its way again or until given the go-ahead signal by the bus driver. Secondly, the one accident occurred at a point that had been realized as hazardous, since a petition for correction of the hazard had been sent to Harrisburg in October, 1959.

In the first situation, drivers of all vehicles must realize the importance of the law which protects the children on our school buses. The police cannot be on hand to enforce the law at every moment, but it should be the responsibility of other drivers to report the license numbers of cars or trucks whose drivers fail to stop. It is a serious matter when the lives of children are involved.

In the second instance, we wonder why, if as a spokesman says, a petition was sent to Harrisburg two years ago to have the hazardous condition remedied, there was no follow-up on it. Why did those who petitioned allow two years to pass without any action? Now that a child has been seriously injured, have they sought impetus to the petition? Such an accident should certainly give them leverage with the powers-that-be!

It is the responsibility of all to see that children on our school buses are safe, and not crippled and maimed by careless accidents.

Newspapers' Vital Role

The 22nd annual observance of National Newspaper Week is under way. It provides us with an opportunity to reiterate the important role a free press plays in our liberty-loving land. The first thing a dictator does to eliminate opposition is to shackle the press. His next step is to suppress religion. Usually, tyranny reigns supreme if he is successful in both aims. The latest and perhaps the most vivid example is Cuba under Castro. A free press means an informed people and dictators or oligarchies do not flourish under such conditions. History bears that out.

"Your Newspaper — Heritage of Truth, Frontier of Freedom" is the slogan for the current observance of National Newspaper Week. "Without our heritage of devotion to truth," said Governor Lawrence in proclaiming National Newspaper Week in Pennsylvania, "we Americans could have accomplished little. The men who founded this nation's government believed that the people must be told the truth and they believed that the truth would make us free. It is imperative in these critical and complex times to remember that the newspaper is genuinely a frontier for the freedoms we hold sacred and self-evident. The great goal of this century is the advancement of freedom for mankind. On the frontier of freedom—the vast, unfinished business of humanity—there is no stronger, better-armed protector than a free press."

Next Saturday has been proclaimed "Newspaper Day." It is fitting recognition of the young men—and some girls, too—who faithfully deliver our newspaper to your doorstep throughout the year. We salute them.

The Pennsylvania Story

Still A Few Left Off The Record

(Little Red School House—Part 2)
Harrisburg — We'll ask the question again — the same question asked yesterday in this column.

"Ever see one of those little old red school houses of yesterday graced by a swimming pool?"

The answer of course is "no." The question — absurd though it may seem — has a bearing on education today, and as being programmed for "tomorrow."

The swimming pool phase illustrates only too well the transition taking place today — the transition from the era of the little old one-room school house.

Is a swimming pool in today's (or tomorrow's) school superfluous or an essential?

You'll find no "must" answer available insofar as Pennsylvania is concerned, via any controlling or jurisdictional agency here on Capitol Hill or anywhere else.

However, in the Lehigh Valley, after the school pool plan became publicly known the local school board rejected the "school pool" proposal (a) because of cost and (b) "because of the sentiment of the electorate."

On the other hand the Lehigh Valley Chamber of Commerce in a letter to the school board, in part had this to say:

"We honestly and sincerely feel that the advantages of a swimming pool in the new high school at that site would be a tragic and unfortunate mistake to exclude it."

Most certainly this illustrates the usual division of thought even within a given community.

Is a swimming pool an "excess" or an "essential"? Is it a "must" or not? Does it or doesn't it fall within the "optimum" — the "jurisdictional" which Pennsylvania does NOT have today?

Contemporary thinking is far different from the little old one-room red school house days. Perhaps a swimming pool today should be a part and parcel of the "optimum" — but who is to say? Even within the comparatively small community of Lehigh Valley the question is debatable — one might say highly debatable.

The swimming pool incident is merely one lone illustration. With nearly $1,000,000,000 (billions) being spent on new schools in Pennsylvania, shouldn't there be some specification as to what "must" comprise the optimum?

Perhaps a swimming pool — and other similar facilities and functions being incorporated in "some" districts should be included in the "optimum"; we don't pretend to know but there's no specific answer in Pennsylvania.

The Allen-Scott Report

JFK Warns Aides On Speaker Selection

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott

Washington — President Kennedy is sharply cracking down on White House assistants and other Administrative officials on meddling in the smoldering House Speakership issue.

They are being strongly enjoined to keep hands off.

Since the announcement of Speaker Sam Rayburn's fatal malady, certain militant New Frontiersmen have been covertly fishing in succession waters.

One widely-published manifestation of this has been a flurry of press reports of alleged administration opposition to Democratic Floor Leader John McCormack, Mass., who by long tradition is directly in line to be the next Speaker. In the final weeks of the recent session he was Acting Speaker.

An important factor behind these undercover press "leaks" is the reputed ambition of Edward (Ted) Kennedy, 30-year-old brother of the President, to run for the Senate next year.

That clashes squarely with similar intentions of Massachusetts Attorney General Edward McCormack. The tall, blond, handsome Annapolis graduate, former Naval officer and nephew of the House leader, is serving his second term, winning re-election in 1960 by a majority second only to the President's in his home state.

The senatorial aspirations of Ted Kennedy, who has yet to make his first campaign for public office, also cut across the political future of Senator Ben Smith, who was named to the President's vacated seat after his 1960 election. Smith also is untied as a candidate.

Latest inside word is that he is to be shunted to running for governor. So far Smith has given no indication of wanting to do that.

How this backstage scramble will be resolved is in the laps of the gods. It could develop into a bruising personal and party brawl into which both the President and McCormack would inevitably be drawn regardless of their outward "neutrality."

"Eddie" McCormack is a proven potent vote getter. Ted Kennedy has a name, a lot of money, and a mother and sisters with much experience and skill in campaigning.

Climbing On Bandwagon — The President issued his emphatic "hands off" edict when he got wind of the inner Administration sniping at McCormack.

The Speakership is one matter we are not going to get involved in," he announced emphatically at a staff meeting. "The House would resent it, and there is nothing we could do about the succession even if we wanted to, which I don't. We have plenty of pressing problems on our hands without getting tangled in this one."

This presidential stand is decidedly to McCormack's advantage.

The only opposition evinced against him so far has come from certain militant New Frontiers sources. Among top House Democratic leaders it is being taken for granted he has the succession sewed up.

A number have already assured McCormack of their support.

Foremost among them are Representative Francis Walter, Pa., chairman of the Un-American Activities Committee who has been mentioned as a possible aspirant for Speaker, but who has told McCormack he wants to nominate him; William Green, powerful Philadelphia leader, whose 385,000 majority for Kennedy carried the state and who is very influential in the President's political councils; and Wilbur Mills, Ark., chairman of the mighty Ways and Means Committee, and a Rayburn protégé.

Also Representative George Mahon, Tex., head of the potent Military Appropriations Subcommittee, has sent word that a majority of his state's delegation favor McCormack.

Top administration officials also are going out of their way to let McCormack know he is their choice for Speaker.

Secretary Dean Rusk has written McCormack warmly thanking him for support in the long difficult foreign aid battle, and "your strategy that helped us so much to obtain the highest possible amount of funds."

Lawrence O'Brien, special assistant to the President for legislative matters, has sent a similar laudatory letter. Significantly, he stressed that he is looking forward to working "very closely" with McCormack in next year's congressional session to put through the President's program.

Another avowed high administration backer is Sargent Shriver, Peace Corps director and brother-in-law of the President.

Shriver made his headquarters in McCormack's office while seeking congressional approval of the controversial Peace Corps plan. Shriver had no congressional experience and McCormack aided him materially.

Guest Speaker — Former Governor Alfred Landis, 1956 Republican presidential candidate, has been invited to address the famed National Press Club. He will speak on foreign affairs at one of the club's world-reported luncheons. This will be Landis's first visit to Washington in a number of years. A strong supporter of the late Senator Robert Taft Landis had no ties with the Eisenhower Administration.

House Democratic Leader John McCormack had a lucrative law practice before being elected to Congress 21 years ago, but since then has turned down every case offered him. He has been preferred large fees by corporations, but has always declined. Also, despite reports to the contrary, McCormack has never had Senate ambitions. He is enthusiastically devoted to the House, and over the years has rebuffed efforts to persuade him to seek a Senate seat.

Better Dead Than Red

"The Evening News" of Newburgh, N.Y., published the following comment by Rev. Ernest L. Howard, a Unitarian minister:

"There are some highly dangerous trends of thought behind certain slogans being bandied about in our country today. As an example, take the motto, 'Better Dead Than Red,' now beginning to crop up on bumper stickers. What kind of motivation could possibly lead to such a superficial and dangerous generalization? A martyr complex, irrational fear and hostility, ignorance regarding alternatives, emotionalistic nationalism: these are some of the possibilities that must be considered . . ."

Mr. Howard might think of other slogans: "We cannot be half slave and half free." Or, "Give me liberty or give me death." Or, "I have but one life to give for my country."

Were these superficial and dangerous generalizations? Perhaps it would have been smarter for Nathan Hale to go to Canada with other Tories or for Patrick Henry to play it safe by saying nothing at all. We surely might assume that John Hancock and the other signers of the Declaration of Independence took a frightening risk when they prepared that document, for which they declared:

"And for the support of this Declaration with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor."

Was this rhetoric? Shall we attribute to Thomas Jefferson, who wrote those words, "a martyr complex, irrational fear and hostility"?

Mr. Howard has raised many questions in his sermon, preached in a Unitarian church. He spoke of "ignorance regarding alternatives." The phrase fascinated me. Do not men have ideals for which they are willing to fight, even to die, or are we craven clods to whom life itself is so valuable that to remain alive we are willing to accept every indecency and horror in life? What is the alternative to love, for instance?

Would Mr. Howard say that men who, in many countries, have stood on the barricades and fought for human liberty, for the rights of man, had alternatives? What were they? Of course, they might have stayed at home to eat rabbit stew and drink a bottle of wine.

Mr. Howard spoke of "emotionalistic nationalism," by which we must assume that he means patriotism. It is possible for a man to have no emotions regarding his native land. To such, one country is as good as another, as meaningless as another. Such a man does not thrill at the sight of his national flag when he sees it after a sojourn in distant places nor does the national anthem mean more than a jingle that is usually badly sung and loudly played. Such a man does not understand the emotionalism of Walter Scott's poem:

"Breathes there the man, with soul so dead,
Who never to himself hath said,
This is my own, my native land!
Whose heart hath not within him burned,
As home his footsteps he hath turned,
From wandering on a foreign strand?
If such there breathe, go, mark him well;
For him no minstrel raptures swell;
High though his titles, proud his

name,
Boundless his wealth as wish can claim;
Despite those titles, power, and pelf,
The wretch, concentered all in self,
Living shall forfeit fair renown,
And, doubly dying, shall go down
To the vile dust, from whence he sprung,
Unwept, unhonored and unsung."

The time has come to ask what is the alternative to nationalism, to patriotism. Howard's church is an American institution, founded as an expression of the right of the individual to worship God as he chooses, according to his own philosophy and precepts without interference by authority. It is a church which has played a great role in American history.

The Unitarians descend from the Socinians, named after Faustus Socinus (1539-1604), an Italian theologian, who believed in total freedom of conscience, although he recognized that the state was to have some authority over the organized activities of churches. The Catechism of Rakau is an amazing document for its time or for any time because of its total recognition of freedom of conscience. Tolerance was a fundamental principle with the Socinians. And in the United States, where they have always been called Unitarians, they practiced what they preached.

Unfortunately Mr. Howard goes beyond tolerance of virtuous alternatives; he proposes that evil (Marxism) be accepted as an alternative.

The Unitarians descend from the Socinians, named after Faustus Socinus (1539-1604), an Italian theologian, who believed in total freedom of conscience, although he recognized that the state was to have some authority over the organized activities of churches. The Catechism of Rakau is an amazing document for its time or for any time because of its total recognition of freedom of conscience. Tolerance was a fundamental principle with the Socinians. And in the United States, where they have always been called Unitarians, they practiced what they preached.

Unfortunately Mr. Howard goes beyond tolerance of virtuous alternatives; he proposes that evil (Marxism) be accepted as an alternative.

For him no minstrel raptures swell;
High though his titles, proud his

name,
Boundless his wealth as wish can claim;
Despite those titles, power, and pelf,
The wretch, concentered all in self,
Living shall forfeit fair renown,
And, doubly dying, shall go down
To the vile dust, from whence he sprung,
Unwept, unhonored and unsung."

The time has come to ask what is the alternative to nationalism, to patriotism. Howard's church is an American institution, founded as an expression of the right of the individual to worship God as he chooses, according to his own philosophy and precepts without interference by authority. It is a church which has played a great role in American history.

One-Man Operation Grew Into Big Project

(First of two articles on the growth of National Drug Laboratories at Swiftwater. Firm was recently recipient of government grant to combat infectious diseases hitting the armed forces stationed around the world.)

By Jim Shafer

Daily Record Reporter

IN 65 YEARS a one-man operation has grown to one that employs more than 100 people and has been a benefit to mankind down through its history.

Today the industry is about to build a $1,900,000 building for research as a result of a recent $5 million dollar grant from the federal government.

The industry is the National Drug Company's laboratory in Swiftwater. They plan to start constructing a new building on its property within the next three months.

To many in the area the laboratory is still referred to as "Slee's Laboratory," a name that the local people will no doubt carry on for years to come.

The history of the operation and the products are the ones to be considered.

How did it locate here? Who started it? And what do they do there? These are questions that residents of the county would like to have answered.

It all started in the 1880's when a young doctor named Richard Slee became interested in the work of Sir William Jenner, the man who discovered small pox, and Major General George M. Sternberg, surgeon general of the Army, whom he later became associated with while serving with the Army prior to the Spanish-American War.

General Sternberg urged Dr. Slee to build his own laboratory and manufacture various vaccines for the Army.

Dr. Slee, after due consideration, moved his family to Swiftwater and purchased 40 acres from his father-in-law, Arthur Maginnis. The property is located in Swiftwater across Route 611 from the Swiftwater Inn.

Here, in 1896, he built the first building, a stone house still used by the present owner of the laboratories, and adjacent to this he built a frame stable for calves. This building is used today as the butcher shop.

With these few facilities, Dr. Slee, with the aid of several local people, produced nearly all the smallpox vaccine that was used by the armed forces in the Spanish-American War.

Dr. Slee continued his work here and in 1900 he constructed another stone building on the property. This was his home.

During the years that followed, the market for his vaccine was small and he practiced medicine in the area and worked the laboratory. It was during this time that a new company opened its doors in Philadelphia. The new firm was primarily interested in the pharmaceutical field.

The new company was the H. K. Mulford Co., later absorbed by Sharp and Dohme. Mulford then became a director in The National Drug Co. and through his negotiations the company rented the laboratory with an option to purchase it.

In 1930 the company purchased the plant and Dr. Slee became associated with the New York Department of Health and Dr. Slee's name was named director of the laboratories.

Arthur was later named director of the biological division of the company, a post he held until he retired in 1948.

Upon the retirement of Arthur Slee, Russell Knerr was named director of the local laboratory. He is on that job today.

The products made here cover many of the vaccines used by the armed forces and civilian physicians and is the only laboratory in the United States manufacturing Yellow Fever vaccine.

In addition, the laboratory produces smallpox, typhoid, pertussis vaccines, and tetanus antitoxins and toxoids.

The National Drug Co. was purchased by Vick Chemical Co., who in January 1961 changed its name to Richardson-Merrell, Inc.

AFTER HIGH SCHOOL . . . WHAT DIRECTION?

Pennsylvania Power & Light Company's program of educational assistance could help answer that question for some deserving young man or woman.

Perhaps you have a youngster—a high school senior—who will be eligible for college in 1962. Or perhaps you know of some other young person who will soon be ready to enroll in a Central Eastern Pennsylvania college or university.

If you do, be sure to tell them about PP&L's two programs for educational assistance: the General Scholarship Program, under which ten scholarships are available each year to young people whose parents are customers of PP&L; and, the Agricultural Scholarship Program, under which three scholarships are available each year on the same basis as above.

Each General Scholarship winner will have $500 paid toward his or her tuition each year, wherein, each grantee may choose to attend any one of the 15 Central Eastern Pennsylvania colleges or universities listed below, and may select any four-year college course which leads to a baccalaureate degree.

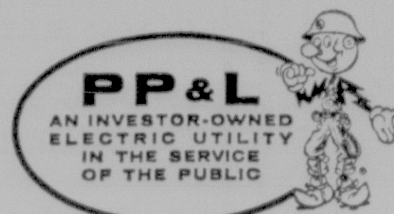

In addition to the amount payable on behalf of the grantee, PP&L will pay a like amount to the college or university which the grantee is attending for its use in whatever manner the institution may feel will contribute most toward the realization of worthy educational objectives.

Under the Agricultural Scholarship Program, three undergraduate scholarships will be awarded to be used for study at The Pennsylvania State University's College of Agriculture. The annual amount is $200 payable to the University on behalf of the grantee.

Have them ask at their school or nearest PP&L office for a copy of either or both of the Company's scholarship brochures. Their high school principal or guidance counselor will be happy to discuss the program with them.

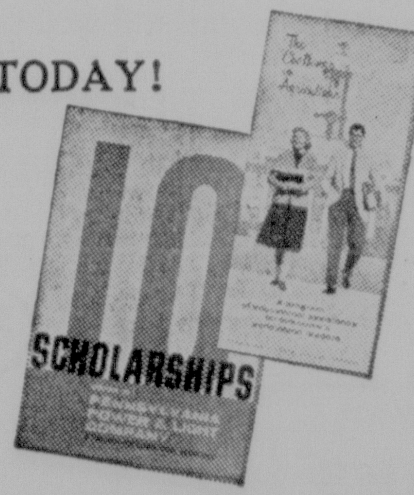

Remember—a college education opens the door to a better job and a better way of life. It is an investment in a young person's future that continues to pay dividends.

The House Of The Week

Ranch Offers Modern Efficiency, Charm

By JULES LOH

IN TODAY'S heading search for economy and efficiency and all the other house-adjectives designed to lure budget minded couples, many modern homes wind up with about as much warmth and charm as a supermarket.

It doesn't have to be the case — which is precisely why this attractive, and modern, three bedroom home was chosen as the house of the week. It is design B-88, by architect Lester Cohen.

The comfortable look about this house — its trim flagstone front porch, picture window with leaded panes, long planter box, cupola with weathervane atop the garage — almost belies the up to date efficiency of the interior design.

But the floor plan shows it is a well ordered home suited to the taste of the most practical homemaker. For example, look at the bathroom arrangement. Technically it would be described as a bath and a half, but all the facilities are in one compartment unit. There are two toilets, two washstands and one tub; and the result is a complete family bathroom, a private bathroom for the master bedroom, and a powder room for guests. The towel closet, incidentally, contains a laundry chute emptying into the basement.

Though the house contains only 1,396 square feet of living area, its rooms are spacious and well planned. The living room, in fact, is 19 feet across the front and, flowing as it does into a dining all, more than 20 feet front to back.

The 15 foot by 11 foot family room is separated from the 13 foot by 9 foot 8 inch kitchen by folding doors, thus offering either two private rooms or one large informal living space.

Including the double garage, the house is 69 feet wide by 39 feet deep. The design calls for wood siding throughout, with accents of vertical board siding in the front on the living room side and brick on the front bedroom side.

Additional Details

Architect Cohen paid as much attention to the grace and charm of the interior of this house as he did the exterior. An indication is the alcove fireplace, a feature not usually found in smaller homes.

Note also that the fireplace is in the family room, an economical move (it shares the flue with the kitchen range) as well as a practical one. As Cohen explained it: "A family spends most of the time in the family room; why not have the fireplace there where they can enjoy it?"

The three bedrooms are sized to accommodate nicely a family of as many as six, with bedroom number three well suited for a den if only two bedrooms are used. All have ample closet space, and the closets are arranged to serve as sound buffers between rooms.

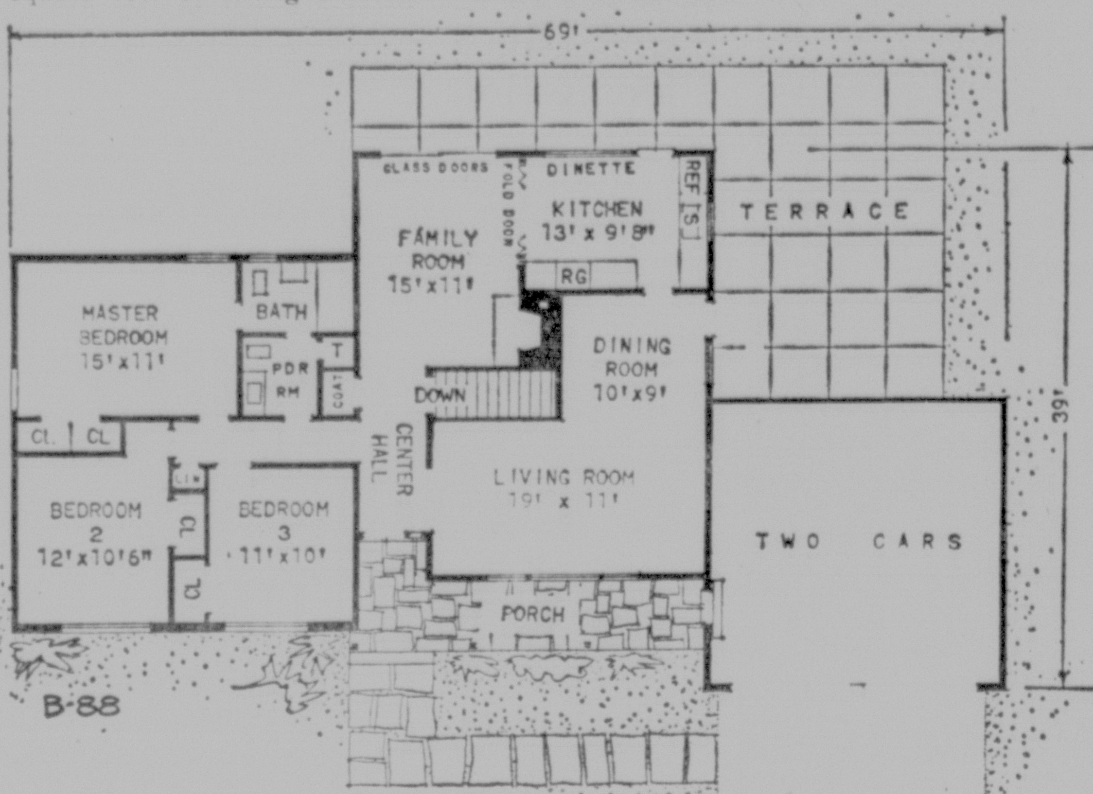

Storage space in the remainder of the house also is plentiful. A full basement as well as double garage solves the major storage problem, and there is a coat closet in the foyer and a linen closet convenient to all three bedrooms.

The kitchen is large and well ventilated, with full view of both sections of the rear terrace.

EARLY AMERICAN FLAVOR — This charming three bedroom home combines modern efficiency with the warmth of traditional design. It contains 1,396 square feet of living area in dimensions of 69 feet by 39 feet, has a full basement, double garage. Exterior is wood siding with accents of vertical board siding and brick in front.

FLOOR PLAN—Center hall assures excellent traffic circulation to all areas of the house, including basement. Note the bathroom arrangement, one and a half baths in a single compartmented unit. Family room, kitchen and dining room all have doors opening to terrace.

race. There is a rear service entrance to the kitchen, in addition to sliding glass door entrances off the terrace to the dining room and family room. The center hall arrangement — another feature frequently passed over in homes of this size — makes for excellent traffic circulation throughout the house. The family room-kitchen area, living room-dining room area, bedroom area, and basement stairs, all are accessible without having to pass through any area to get to another.

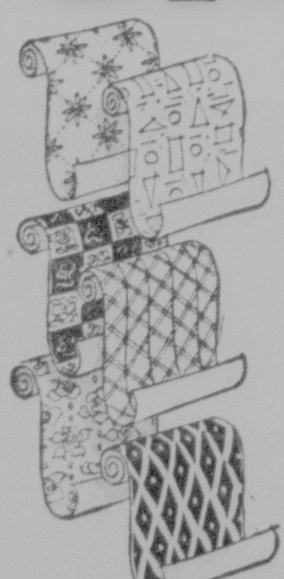

B-88 STATISTICS

A three-bedroom ranch with 1½ baths, family room, living room, full basement and double garage. Outdoor areas include flagstone porch in front and large terrace on two sides of rear.

House contains 1,396 square feet of living area in dimensions of 69 feet wide and 39 feet deep. Architect is Lester Cohen.

MASK THE GLASS

HAVING trouble keeping paint off the glass when you paint the frames? Then why not use masking tape for a neat, quick job? If you're doing the outside of the windows lay the tape about an eighth or quarter inch beyond the putty or glazing compound so that the trim enamel will cover the glass slightly and prevent moisture from getting underneath the putty. When doing the inside of the windows, lay the tape so it just misses touching the sash. Don't let the tape stay for more than two or three days, because as the paint hardens you may have a jagged edge when the tape is removed.

Just Between Us — —

—By Bobby Westbrook

Like poison ivy, the tendency to carp can spread and re-infect itself until your disposition itches all over, which is not only uncomfortable for you, but very hard on people who have to be around you.

Anyway, having started being critical of the world I certainly found plenty more to criticize yesterday. Including the fact that some people seem to think they're being very generous to give $5 to the Community Chest.

That works out to about 41 cents for each agency for the whole year. No wonder it takes so long to reach a goal we ought to be able to make overnight if each wage earner would give the price of one pack of cigarettes per week.

And then take the world situation—or before we do that, maybe I'd better take a good look at something much nearer—me. Sometimes washing with yellow laundry soap will stop poison ivy, but the only thing that will stop a carping tongue is to take a good look at my own numerous, and obvious (to everybody else, anyway) shortcomings.

Among which is putting off work I don't want to do anyway; like housecleaning. In a sudden burst of determination I took down the curtains in the living room, figuring that even I couldn't stand that bare look indefinitely.

I don't know, though—I opened up a view of the pine tree lifting its new-growth candles to the blue sky; it revealed the flickers having a feast on the last of the wild grapes; and framed a maple tree of a shade of red so delicious you could almost taste it.

And then, as a reminder, showed the poison ivy blazing scarlet in the barberry hedge. Oh well, maybe if I just don't scratch I'll stop itching.

The Wyckoff Shopper

"the friendly store" A.B. Wyckoff STROUBSBURG, PA.

When the going gets a bit rough now and then, and one is bogged down under the pressure of work, it's usually Peter Wyckoff who comes up with some droll remark that sets everyone laughing and breaks the tension.

The last few weeks have been extremely hectic ones in our advertising department. Not only have we been short-handed, but as you know, we are headed into one of the greatest sales we've ever conducted here at Wyckoff's. We have been literally up to our necks in mats, pictures, carbon papers, layout sheets, and all the hustle and bustle that go into the composition of page after page of newspaper ads.

During a break on Saturday, I went down into Gifts to make a purchase, and then mentioned to Amy Eilenberger that I had both talked and written about the 2,98 sewing boxes in her department that are so practical as little travel cases.

"Don't I know it," Amy laughed. "We had 3 dozen, and at the beginning of the week we sold one now and then, but since your column we've sold EVERY ONE, and could have sold at least three more if we'd had them. We'll be getting more in very soon."

Later I mentioned this to Pete, Marion Leedom and Bea Brink, also telling about the lady who was concerned because I hadn't mentioned packing my toothpaste and brush.

Pete commented, "Three dozen! That's quite a few sewing boxes. Well, you'll undoubtedly get a kiss on the cheek from Amy, a stab in the back from Dolly, and we're going to miss you around here!"

Dolly, of course, refers to the Dolly Erdman who heads our Wyckoff luggage department. Under ordinary conditions Pete might be right . . . but knowing Dolly I feel quite secure and happy.

Having worked so closely with Arthur Widmer on all the ads for this year's big October Sale, I can truthfully say the merchandise we're offering at sale price absolutely defies description.

Much of the merchandise has been in his office and mine; been handled by us as Shorty did the art work and I did the copy writing, and I know first hand that it is all excellent quality, priced far less than one would normally expect to pay.

For instance, several weeks ago we had three positively gorgeous Velveteen slips in our offices. All of them were ticketed at 5.98. They go on sale for 3.99, I believe, and any woman who can afford to buy one of each should certainly do so. One was particularly eye-catching, having a very full overskirt of beautiful nylon lace. The fabric of all, if I recall correctly, is called Narcessa . . . a new treatment of nylon that actually feels and looks like satin.

I could go on and on talking about our sale values . . . the values in snowsuits, for instance, such as Marion Drake unpacked a few weeks ago to show me. The colors are brilliant . . . they are of cotton, in interesting novelty weaves, some with orlon pile and furlike orlon trim, and they are being offered at only a fraction of what a mother expects to pay for a pretty snowsuit. The same is true of the boys' quilt-lined, hooded parkas and jackets I had to describe for an ad, and of the jewelry, women's millinery, Fall dresses, and coats that will be sale-priced.

I can think right now of at least twenty-five items I would most certainly buy if I could do so . . . not just for me or my family, but for Christmas giving. Do read the ads carefully . . . and do come in and shop every department. You will be delighted, I am sure, with both your purchases AND your SAVINGS! If I did not truly believe this, I would not so enthusiastically tell you so.

Waring Concert Gives Friends A Chance

SO YOU WERE a friend of Tom Waring. Well now you have a chance to show it.

Normally the only way to remember a departed friend is with a wreath of flowers on the grave. But Tom's friends are fortunate, they have a chance to remember more than a memory.

Sunday evening at 8 in the East Stroudsburg High School gymnasium, Tom's brother Fred and the Pennsylvania will present "Let Freedom Sing," the musical sounds of America. The proceeds of the performance will be donated to the Tom L. Waring Scholarship Fund.

Tickets are being sold by the Variety "E" Club and at numerous area business establishments but if you can't find a place to buy one, give me a call and I will deliver the tickets to you. Tom did a great deal for the community and he never let anyone down, will you be the one to let Tom down?

Imbt Gets Upsala Varsity Job

Bruce Imbt, former Stroud Union High footballer, is the starting center, both offense and defense for the Upsala College football team. Bruce made the grade as a freshman.

Will Oplinger, of Northampton, recently put on the Baltimore Orioles roster, is attending East Stroudsburg State College.

Actually the rumor that Oplinger does not mean that Oplinger will stay with the Orioles. The move is to protect the first year player from the baseball field.

Oplinger may not be the main reason for the Birds' starting lineup. He was the second baseman on the Appalachian League All-Star team this summer and batted .380 for Wytheville, Va. in the All-Star game.

Oplinger, because of his professional status, is ineligible for intercollegiate athletics at Normal Hill.

Plastic Helmet Gripe Not Valid

Most of the football coaches who claim that plastic helmets are one of the major reasons for grid injuries, have no beef.

Almost 10 years ago the complaints started against plastic hats but very few schools and colleges have switched to helmets of other materials. If the coaches are so upset about plastic helmets, why do they let their teams wear them?

East Stroudsburg State College will never be able to play a Lehigh Valley area liberal arts school in football. Why? The Warriors have too many horses.

Lafayette struggled to a 12-12 tie with Temple last Saturday and made only one first down after the first quarter.

That's the same Temple team that East Stroudsburg scrimmaged this year and limited the Owls to three first downs and 21 yards total offense.

Muhlenberg May Drop Frosh Team

Muhlenberg is de-emphasizing football and wants no part of East Stroudsburg. In fact the football program at Muhlenberg is so low, that unless some of the intra-mural players can be recruited, the school will have to cancel the remainder of its freshman grid schedule because of lack of players.

East Stroudsburg football coach Jack Gregory credits much of the success of the 17-3 win of Mansfield Saturday to his assistant coaches Mort Hochheiser and Charlie Reese.

"Mort did a wonderful job in getting our linemen in on the Mansfield quarterback," says Gregory. "and Charlie had our defensive backs prepared for every Mansfield move."

And college basketball practice opened yesterday across the country—Can Spring be far behind?

Lone Friday Game

L-N Top Teams Head High Football Card This Week

TWO BIG games in the Lehigh-Northampton League headline this week's high school schedule.

East Stroudsburg in fourth place, meets defending champion Wilson Boro, which is tied for the lead and third place. Pen Argyl faces the other top team, Nazareth. The East Stroudsburg game is Saturday night at Memorial Stadium, while Pen Argyl is at Nazareth the same afternoon. The only Friday night game sends Stroud Union against Whitehall at Gordon Union Field.

Plus X Mile

The Bangor at Coplay game is the only other action this weekend. It is also a Saturday afternoon affair. Plus X is due.

There is almost certain to be a scramble in the Lehigh-Northampton league standings after Saturday. Nazareth and Wilson both have 2-0 marks, while Pen Argyl is 1-0 and East Stroudsburg has a 2-1 record.

The East Stroudsburg-Wilson game will feature two of the best running backs in the league, the Cavaliers Harold (Mach 2) Myers and Wilson's Rich Grube.

Myers is the leading scorer in the league and the leading ground gainer and Grube is one of the leading ground gainers.

The game is one that Cavalier coach Jack Kist especially points for. Kist is a graduate of Wilson Boro.

Stann Back

The Cavaliers will be strengthened by the return of Budd Stann, a 250-pound tackle, who missed last week's game against Parkland and was in for only

Army Calls Green Bay's Hornung, Nitschke

Defending Western Champs Could Lose More Players

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—The Army dealt the Green Bay Packers' National Football League title hopes a jolting blow Tuesday by calling up scoring champion Paul Hornung and middle linebacker Ray Nitschke.

Although both Hornung and Nitschke are members of the Army reserve, their call to active duty shocked the Packers, who have streaked to four straight victories after a 17-13 upset by Detroit in their opener.

Coach Vince Lombardi put off any immediate decision on moves to fill key spots on both his offensive and defensive units. He noted that the departure of Hornung and Nitschke is two or three weeks away.

Hornung To Riley

The 14th Army Corps headquarters in Minneapolis announced that Hornung has been ordered to report to the 896th Engineer Co. at Ft. Riley, Kan., Oct. 30. Nitschke was told to report to the 32nd Division, recently activated Wisconsin National Guard infantry unit, on Nov. 2 at Ft. Lewis, Wash.

An Army spokesman said orders normally are "personal information" but an announcement of the call-up of Hornung and Nitschke was made "because of earlier rumors."

Lombardi said early in the day that "four or five" Green Bay players were subject to military call, but that the club was trying to work out arrangements to permit them to complete the 1961 season.

Hornung, who will be 26 Dec. 23, is single. Nitschke, who will be 25 on Dec. 29, was married about a year ago. Both served six months in the Army a couple of years ago, then went into the reserves.

Nitschke, a former Illinois fullback, was converted to a defensive specialist by the Packers.

Hornung was Green Bay's bonus selection in the NFL's 1957 draft after he won the Heisman Trophy as the nation's outstanding college player in his senior year at Notre Dame.

Broke Record

He won the league scoring championship in 1959, his first season, with 94 points. He scored a record 176 points, shattering the old league mark of 138 by Don Hutson of Green Bay, in leading the Packers to the Western Division title in 1960.

This season Hornung has piled up 77 points in five games. His greatest performance was a 33-point spree on four touchdowns, a field goal and six conversions against Baltimore Oct. 8.

Nitschke was the third choice of the New York Giants in the 1957 draft and then was traded to Green Bay. He became a regular linebacker last season and this year has been a standout in the Packers' tremendous defense, which has held opponents to 51 points, fewest in the league.

New Method For Picking Brite Stars

A NEW method for selecting the Brite Star of the Week athletic awards will be used this year.

The weekly award, sponsored by Brite Cleaners and the Daily Record will begin this week. Each high school in the Daily Record coverage area has an award nominator, who will turn in three selections a week during each sport's season.

The selections will be graded, with the first selection getting three points and the last one point. At the end of the season, the 11 players with the highest number of points will be voted on to determine the Brite Star of that sport. In the Spring the Brite Star of the year will be selected from the seasonal winners.

Only schools that play in the season sport on a varsity level, will be allowed to nominate.

Pick Past Stars

So that the football season can be brought up to date, selectors, who were picked several weeks ago, are asked to submit their choices for each week of the season, starting Sept. 17.

The schools that will participate in the football selections are East Stroudsburg State College, East Stroudsburg High School, Stroud Union High School, Bangor High School, Pen Argyl High School and Plus X High School.

During the other sports' seasons, Pleasant Valley High School, Pocono Mountain High School, Southern Wayne High School and Delaware Valley High School will also participate.

There will be a similar method for selecting Brite Stars in minor sports.

Michigan's Head Gets Homer Calf

HOMER, N. Y. (AP)—Because Roger Maris hit 61 home runs this season, six-week-old Homer-dale - Clyde - Maris - Sixty - one was being readied Tuesday for shipment to Gov. John B. Swainson of Michigan.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York had promised the Michigan governor a calf if the New York Yankees star batted more than 60 homers. Homer-dale is the calf.

Earlier, Rockefeller won a bushel of apples from the Michigan governor on their wager on the winner of the American League baseball race. The Yankees, Rockefeller's choice, beat the Detroit Tigers.

Haas Gets Post

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Bernie Haas, Philadelphia PGA champion, disclosed Tuesday he will become head golf professional at the Pittsburgh Field Club Nov. 1. Haas is resigning as assistant pro at the Philadelphia Country Club to take the new post. He came here in 1954 from the Burning Tree Country Club in Washington.

RUSHING THE SEASON—Blinding snow and a slippery gridiron make it rough for the Portland Seahawks and the Frankfort, N.Y., Falcons during semi-pro game held at Portland, Me. Here, Willie Greenlaw of Portland makes his way through the swirling stuff for a second period gain. The Seahawks won, 15-0.

Pocono Hi Dumps Pius In 1st Game

POCONO Mountain High School opened its first football season in the school's brief history Tuesday with a 12-0 win over Pius X (JV) at Roseto.

Pocono scored both its touchdowns in the third period and stopped every Pius scoring threat.

But Kreck and Keith Mikels scored the touchdowns. Mikels ran 25 yards with an intercepted pass and six plays later Kreck scored on a 20-yard pass from halfback Tom Battisto.

Twice in the first period Pius checked Pocono inside the Royal 10-yard line.

Couch Pleased

Pocono coach Al Shollenberger was well pleased with the defensive efforts of his team and singled out Bill Anderson and Mikels, a linebacker for praise.

Pius' biggest threat was in the last period, when it moved to the Pocono four-yard line. But the game ended with the ball still on the four.

Freshmen Get Call

2 Quarterbacks Missing From Warrior Drills

EAST STROUDSBURG State College may have to go against Cheyney Saturday without any experienced quarterbacks.

But even without seasoned signal callers, the Warriors will be four or more touchdown favorites to beat the suburban Philadelphia school.

First unit quarterback Bill Lewis is out with a pulled muscle in his right arm and Charlie Sierler, who directs the second unit, was called home Saturday night, after his father was injured in an automobile accident.

Lewis' arm will probably be healed by Saturday but Warrior coach Jack Gregory probably will not take a chance on further damage by using Lewis. The Warriors take on Bloomsburg the following week and East Stroudsburg will need Lewis for that game.

Auker May Start

Harold Auker, a freshman from Altoona, will probably be the starting quarterback against Cheyney. Auker has played briefly this year but did throw a touchdown pass against Kutztown.

Scranton's Nick Forsette, another freshman will take over the second unit and senior Fred O'Connor will direct the third unit. O'Connor, who was a quarterback for three years, has been running as a halfback this season but in practice quarterbacks the team that runs opposition plays against the other Warrior units.

Center Warren Swartwood and end Jim Wilde have been named co-captains for Saturday's game. Wilde, a second unit end, is the first non-starter to be given the honor. He earned it for his defensive play against Mansfield last week. Wilde also leads the team in recovered fumbles, with two.

Star Awards

Star awards for defensive play against Mansfield were given Oct. Tuesday.

Bruce Thomas earned one for leading the club in tackles, with nine. It was the highest total that a Warrior tackle has turned in two years.

Guards Art Shisler and Jack Casselbaum earned stars for intercepting passes.

Tokyo Settles Olympic Battle

TOKYO (AP)—A six-month dispute over the site for the Olympic village in the 1964 Tokyo games was virtually settled Tuesday with an agreement reached by Tokyo's assemblymen.

The representatives agreed to put the Olympic village in Washington Heights, a U.S. military housing area, adjacent to the main Olympics stadium.

Ties are broken by using the previous week's total in the same league.

The four top scores for men are: 664, Russell Beck, East Stroudsburg; 639, Stanley Kona-walk, East Stroudsburg; 632, Wil Perry, Stroudsburg and 618, Tom Sommers, East Stroudsburg.

Anyone with a higher score for the second qualifying week should contact Ernie Tranter before 5 p.m. Thursday.

Machen Scores TKO Over Britain's Brian London

LONDON (AP)—Heavyweight contender Eddie Machen of Portland, Ore., scored a technical knockout over Brian London Tuesday night when the stopped action at the end of the fifth round of the 10-round bout in indoor Wembley Stadium.

The 29-year-old American won all five rounds and used the 27-year-old Briton as a chopping block before a sell-out crowd of 12,000. Machen weighed 200, London 208.

The fight ended with London's face a gory mess. Blood streamed from his nose and a cut over the right eye. His left eye was bruised and badly battered.

Sets Pattern

Machen set the pattern for the fight in the first round. He threw punches to the Briton's body and then quickly snaked in with hooks to the jaw, followed by combination punches to the face. In the first round London landed only one telling punch—a left to the temple.

A desperate London tried storming tactics in the fifth. He threw himself in like a mad bull. Machen picked off the brawling Briton cleverly, cut him about the eyes and at the end of the round it was hard to see London's face through a curtain of blood.

At the end of the round, Referee Andrew Smyth of Ireland took a look at London and then London walked across to Machen in a token of retirement.

"Now I want to fight Henry Cooper, the British champion," Machen said. "I would come here any time and fight Cooper any place."

Cooper, like Machen, is a top contender for Floyd Patterson's heavyweight title.

No Title At Stake When Floyd Fights

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—Floyd Patterson's Dec. 4 fight with Tom McNeely at Tacoma will not be recognized as a world heavyweight championship bout by the National Boxing Association, the organization's president said Tuesday.

Dr. Charles P. Larson, head of the NBA, explained that Patterson is obligated to defend his title against the No. 1 challenger on the NBA list—currently Henry Cooper of England—on or before March 12.

"We just sign for the bout, but we don't sign the ring," said Dr. Larson. "If he fails to do so, the NBA will declare the title vacant."

The NBA president also said the return-bout clause in the Patterson-McNeely contract would not be recognized by his organization. It is at variance, he said, with NBA world championship regulations and with a resolution passed by the last convention opposing return-bout clauses in all boxing contracts.

He did not say what steps the NBA would take regarding McNeely's claim to the crown if he defeated Patterson.

ESSC Third In League Grid Battle

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—West Chester and California—the only two unbeaten teams remaining in the State College Football Conference—lead their respective sections after four weeks of play.

West Chester, the defending conference champion, heads the Eastern division with a 2-0 conference record and 250 points. The Rams have also won two outside conference games.

California, in with a 3-0 mark and 233 points, tops the Western section, replacing Slippery Rock, the leader for the last three weeks. Slippery Rock was upset by Indiana last Saturday.

The standings are based on both victories and quality of the opposition.

Cardinals Sell Hurler Ciotte

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The sale of pitcher Al Ciotte to the Houston Colts for an undisclosed amount of cash was announced Tuesday night by the St. Louis Cardinals. The 32-year-old right-hander was named minor league Player of the Year in 1960, when he was with Toronto of the International League. But with the Cardinals last year he won only two while losing six and had an earned run average of 5.26.

Jonas Demoted By Penn State

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Star Halfback Don Jonas was one of three starters demoted to Penn State's second unit Tuesday as head coach Rip Engle continued to shake up his lineup for the Syracuse game this Saturday.

Also demoted were captain and right tackle Jim Smith and left tackle Chuck Sieminski.

Jonas, Penn State's leading scorer and third leading ground gainer, will be replaced by sophomore Hal Powell.

Replacing Sieminski at left tackle will be third-string lineman Terry Monaghan. Gerry Farkas is expected to be in the right tackle slot in place of Smith.

No Evidence Of Football Bribes

NEW YORK (AP)—There is no evidence that college football games have been fixed, Dist. Atty. Frank Hogan said Tuesday.

"We've heard rumors and have been investigating them, but we aren't getting anywhere," Hogan told Milton Gross, sports columnist of the New York Post.

Thirty-seven players from 22 colleges were named in the recent college basketball scandal. A similar scandal in 1951 involved 33 players from seven schools.
